It is now common for women to have their families, particularly their partners, in the delivery room with them to help their wives prepare for childbirth. Many male partners participate in specialized childbirth classes such as Lamaze or Bradley.

Many of us were taught the basics of pregnancy and childbirth in health education classes from learning how the sperm and egg join to seeing how the fetus grows as the weeks go by. The whole process is pretty fascinating but if there was any point where you got disgusted and tuned out, it was probably during the delivery.
